TV MOVIES WITH COMMERCIALS... 6

One way to stop interruptions of TV movies for commercials is: build 'em into the plot. Second way is: eliminate TV movies.

MY FRIEN' DUFO.....12

Wally Cox's boyhood chum comes alive in this MAD article, but Wally Cox'll probably drop dead when he sees this MAD article.

PARKING METERS.....19

Like it wasn't bad enough you had to look hours for a parking space, now you have to pay for the privilege of being so lucky.

SECRET FILE.....26

Bob and Ray's take-off of a popular TV show brings a shocking social problem to the pages of MAD, also a shocking social problem.

RAW GUTS MAGAZINE.....31

Here is MAD's version of a typical men's magazine, edited by he-men, written by he-men, read by he-men, and nauseating to we-men.

O.K.! GUNFIGHT AT THE CORRAL!...37

Here is a Western movie that dares to be different from other Western movies, mainly it dares to have a longer title.

THE TWELVE BOTTLES.....43

Henry Morgan's hilarious account of "The Twelve Bottles of Whiskey" hits a new high every time Mr. Morgan hits a new fifth.

GUIDE TO U.S. WILD LIFE.....45

A Martian manual of wild life found in the cement jungles of North America, with a scientific outline of that pretty wild life.

ENLIGHTENING ROD DEPT.

The other day, while looking out over the tenements that surround the MAD building, (the MAD building being just a little bigger tenement than those around it!), we happened to notice all those TV antennas cluttering up the roofs. And it suddenly occurred to us that the TV industry might've used a little more imagination when it designed the TV antenna. For example, as long as a set-owner is stuck with an antenna, he should be able to put it to some use other than just TV reception. Like, he should also be able to use it for advertising...or tell his neighbors something about himself...or identify his profession. Then, all over this television-happy land of ours, we'll have rooftops cluttered up with

MORSE CODE

How much do you guys know about music? In the article "Cars to Match Careers", the treble clef sign on the Musician's Car is backwards. And don't tell me that when the car is facing the other way it'll look right. Why wasn't the car facing the other way in the first place?

We couldn't turn car around because it was on a one-way street.—Ed.

Oh, you MAD impetuous fools, you! Don't you realize that if the plumber backs his car up, the nuts he has for wheels will unscrew and roll off?

Neal Bullington
De Kalb, Ill.

Don't you realize that threads are already stripped!—Ed.

In your "Mad Eating Utensils", what happens when the foam-catching beer glass's foam catcher fills up and you tip the glass?

Bill Stebbins
Miami, Fla.

After the beer foams up and runs down into the catcher rim around the glass, you are faced with the problem of it all running down your shirt when you tip the glass to drink.

Jack Marcheski
Raymond Apsley
Hollister, Calif.

Foam-catching beer glass was designed to keep hands dry. Nobody said anything about shirts!—Ed.

After reading "Mad's College Entrance Exam", I find that someone there doesn't know Morse code. The question reads: "It was Samuel F. B. Morse who once said ---, which translated reads "What, me worry". Instead of ---, it should be ---, so that the question would read correctly, "It was Samuel F. B. Morse who once said "What, me worry?"

Norman Pierce
Binghamton, N. Y.

Question reads correctly in first place! Samuel F. B. Morse once did say, "What, me werry?" It was Alfred E. Neuman who once said, "What, me worry?"—Ed.

In "The Hunting Song", somebody goofed. Didn't any of you live on a farm? Female cows don't have horns!

Jack Johnston

THE PAUSE THAT DEPRESSES DEPT.

You know what's wrong with old movies on TV? Nothing's wrong with them! What's wrong is the commercials! They keep getting in the way! TV stations have it worked out so every time the action gets good and the suspense builds up... WHAMMO!...they interrupt with a 2-minute plug for "Soggies, The Pre-Creamed Corn Flakes" or "Uncle Herman's Instant Halvah." By the time they get back to the movie, you've forgotten what's going on!

We've got a simple plan to end all these interruptions. And since every movie winds up on TV eventually, Hollywood could do well to adopt this plan. Plan being: Make the commercials a part of the action itself! Can't you just see these . . .

Yes, today, mercenary local officials all over the country, in an effort to fill their city's coffers (and perhaps their own pockets), are innocently destroying America's basic security! They are breaking down its morale! Because the every

There's only one solution, as we at MAD see it . . . the American male must give up driving the family

This past summer we sent MAD artist, Wally Wood, on a well-deserved vacation. But being a MAD artist, Wally just couldn't keep away from the drawing board. So every day, we received a post card with a sketch like the one at left. Wally insisted that if we'd put 'em all together, they'd make one big panoramic view of the place where he spent his vacation. So we put 'em all together, and got results printed below. Now Wally tells us we had to put 'em together in the right order, like a picture puzzle! So if you're interested, you can cut out and reassemble Wally Wood's post card sketches in the right order. When you do, you'll have a panoramic pictorial report entitled:

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 10 (UP) — Most women are frightened at the sight of a mouse, but not Mrs. Maude Dosset, whose husband runs a dairy farm near here.

Mrs. Dosset was carving a chicken in her kitchen this morning, when she saw three mice, apparently afflicted with poor vision, reeling across the floor. Unshaken, she chased the staggering rodents and managed to disable them by slicing off their tails.

The Dossel farm is now currently under investigation by the SPCA.

The Men Who Beat The AMAZON!

by Mickey Cohen

MY MBA, our guide, staggered in to camp with the news. Up ahead, a giant Armadillo was pinching female members of the Ichigoochi. The Ichigoochi were friendly. We couldn't let them down! Only the river stood between us. The mighty Amazon River. We had to cross it. But how? It was too late to rent a canoe. There was only one answer.

Sturdily was the first to hit the water. One after the other, we all followed suit, hitting the water. It was a most grotesque spectacle. Imagine! Grown-up men hitting and punching innocent water. continued

I FOUGHT With The Boys of The 26th INFANTRY

by Maj. Gen. Frank Costello

Yes! I fought with the boys of the 26th Infantry! I also fought with the boys of the 39th Infantry! Then I fought with the boys of the 47th Infantry! It seems that I just couldn't get along with anybody while I was in the army. I remember as a child that I used to fight with all the kids on my block. continued

I Warned The Warden That I Would BREAK OUT!

by Johnny Dio

The fool didn't believe me. So I showed him, the next day. It was the worst break-out he'd ever seen at Leavenworth. My whole body was covered with these big, ugly purple blotches. The doctor had warned me about my allergy to Lasagna and Chicken Fat. And there it was on my mess tray, the very first meal. continued

I Fought A GRIZZLY BEAR BLINDFOLDED!

by Al Anastasia

How a big old grizzly like that ever managed to get himself blindfolded is beyond me. But he sure looked funny as he charged. I couldn't help but laugh in his face as his huge paws closed around me in a crushing embrace. He looked that funny.

Even now, as I look back on it, lying here in the hospital room, I have to laugh. Only I can't because it hurts.

I CLEANED UP AN ENEMY OUTPOST BARE-HANDED!

by Sgt. John Billinger D.C.A.

Lucky for me, there was nobody there at the time. Nevertheless, it was a risky proposition . . . cleaning it up barehanded. They didn't even give me a decent broom.

I CAPTURED SIX JAPS WITH ONE HAND!

by Lt. Col. William "Willie" Sutton

It was the most terrifying experience of my life. Just think of it. Six one-handed Japs. How they were ever taken into the Japanese Army, I'll never know. And I didn't wait to find out. When they came marching toward me, each with his one hand raised in surrender, I took off for H. Q. They had quite a job keeping up with me, as

by Lucky Luciano

The only trouble was, there just weren't any more old lions around to kill. And the young ones were much too ferocious for him.

He had to find some other way to release his deep-rooted hostilities.

And so, that's how Fenwick Furd started molesting young innocent

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION? DEPT.

The following article is directed at all you still-camera fans. So stop fanning those still-cameras for a moment, and pay attention. We'd like to show you why you're wasting your time taking pictures with that old-fashioned still-camera, when you could be getting far more fascinating and satisfactory results taking

Ordinary snapshot is static, cannot show action, so members of group must pose stiffly.

Ordinary snapshot is lifeless, cannot show real personality, so baby must pose stiffly.

Ordinary snapshot is final, cannot show sequence, so gay homcomer must pose stiffly.

Ordinary snapshot is limited, cannot show whole breathtaking scene, so much is lost.

LEAD PAN ALLEY DEPT.

We figure, if they keep testing H-bombs, there'll be some changes made over the next few years. Take for instance popular music. Popular music is bound to reflect these changes. So here's our idea of the kind of songs young lovers of future generations will be singing as they walk down moonlit lanes arm in arm in arm in arm . . .

the TOP TEN

The following are the top ten song hits of America, as determined by a recent nation-wide survey of all juke boxes, disc jockeys, and name bands located in caves around the country.

THERE'S NO STREET WHERE YOU LIVE

SAMMY AXOLOTL
OZGOOD Z'BEARD

I have often walked
On this street before,
But there once was pavement
Underneath my feet before
Now as I walk by,
I see rubble fly,
Boy, it's rough on the street
Where you live!

People stop and stare,
They don't bother me!
Got lead underwear,
I'm safe as safe can be!
All the air is filled
With radioactivity
And it's worse on the street
Where you live!

Oh, that frightening feeling
As the glow spreads over the land
That exposed-to-lightning feeling
When those geiger counters click to bear the band!

There are no more trees,
They've been all knocked down
You will never hear a bird
In any part of town.
See the plane draw near!
Let's get out of here!
Yucca Flats is no street
Where to live!

YOU'RE LOATHSOME TO LOOK AT

JONNIE OSSZEFOLVA

You're lovely to look at,
Delightful to know,
And forty feet high,
Because you're up in the sky,
I think the most impossible thing to do
Is walk down a lane holding hands with you
You're lovely to look at,
Delightful to know
But this cannot last.
'Cause when I try to kiss you
good-night,
I get nauseous from all that height,
my dear.

SPACE SHIP

SCHROEDER
"BEE" THOVEN

Space ship,
Space ship,
Go so fast!
Space ship,
Space ship,
Shoot right past!
Earth is no more place to stop!
Since H-Bomb make it pop!

MAMA, LOOK-A H-BOMB

HELVIN COWZKOPSKI

Mama, look-a H-bomb,
They shout!
Their mother tell them,
Watch for fallout!
Look-a your Daddy,
He know!
Was fallout make him ugly so!

Hit the dirt!
Join the crowd!
Mama look a mushroom cloud!

THE THING THAT I MARRY

WHAT-NEE NEL MAN
ALFRED E. WORRY

The girl that I marry
Will have to be
A purple-skinned beauty
With two heads or three

The girl I call my wife
Will have a nose
With eight nostrils
You play like a fife

Her nails will be claw-like,
And in her hair
She'll wear geiger-counters.
And I'll be there

'Stead of flyin', I'll be sighin'
Next to her,
And she'll roar like a lion
The girl I propose to
Will have fourteen toes too,
Like me!

O.K.! GUNFIGHT AT THE CORRAL!

PICTURE OPENS WITH SUSPENSE AS FRANKIE LAINE SINGS TITLE SONG

Right away, picture starts off with plenty suspense as three men come riding across prairie, and Frankie Laine begins singing that catchy title song.

Plenty suspense keeps building up as three men keep coming across prairie and Frankie Laine keeps singing that catchy little plaintive title song.

Plenty suspense becomes unbearable as audience strains to see which one of three men is Frankie Laine, who won't stop singing that idiotic title song.

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Between the dark and the daylight,
When the night is beginning to lower,
Comes a pause in the day's occupations,
That is known as the Children's Hour

... A Benevolent Postscripter for the Milk of Human Kindness

I hear in the chamber above me
The patter of little feet,
The sound of a door that is opened,
And voices soft and sweet.

From my study I see in the lamplight,
Descending the broad hall stair,
Grave Alice, and laughing Allegra,
And Edith with golden hair

A whisper, and then a silence:
Yet I know by their merry eyes
They are plotting and planning together
To take me by surprise.

A sudden rush from the stairway,
A sudden raid from the hall!
By three doors left unguarded
They enter my castle wall!

ART
BY DON MARTIN

*They climb up into my turret
O'er the arms and back of my chair,
If I try to escape, they surround me,
They seem to be everywhere.*

*They almost devour me with kisses,
Their arms about me entwine,
Till I think of the Bishop of Bingen
In his Mouse-Tower on the Rhine!*

*Do you think, O blue-eyed banditti,
Because you have scaled the wall,
Such an old mustache as I am
Is not a match for you all!*

*I have you fast in my fortress,
And will not let you depart,
But put you down into the dungeon
In the round-tower of my heart.*

*And there will I keep you forever,
Yes, forever and a day,
Till the walls shall crumble to ruin,
And moulder in dust away!*

MR. MORGAN TELLS THE STORY OF THE 12 BOTTLES

PICTURES BY WALLACE WOOD

I had twelve bottles of whiskey in my cellar, and my wife told me to empty the contents of each and every bottle down the sink—or else!

I extracted the cork from the second bottle, and did likewise, with the exception of one glass . . . which I drank!

So I said I would, and proceeded with the unpleasant task . . .

I then withdrew the cork from the third bottle, and emptied the good 'ol booze down the sink, except one glass . . . which I drank!

I withdrew the cork from the first bottle, and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass . . . which I drank!

DO NOT FEED OR ANNOY DEPT.

We never believed those stories about flying saucers, until just the other night, when we happened to look out the window of our office here in the MAD building. There, to our utter amazement, was a real flying saucer parked on Lafayette Street. We were utterly amazed, because there's usually never any parking on Lafayette Street! Turned out, the saucer was a space-ship-ful of Martian explorers deserting to Venus. One Martian offered to exchange an Earth exploration manual for a copy of the latest MAD. Now, we know a good deal when we see one, so we made the trade. Here, then, is the cover and a few representative pages from the manual we obtained that night . . . (Incidentally, we also obtained a black eye that night in a later run-in with a flying saucer. Mainly, the one thrown by the little woman when we got home at 3 AM and told this story as the excuse for working late at the office. Maybe this article will convince her and get us back inside. It's chilly, sleeping with our cocker spaniel.)

THE SCHOLARSHIPUS ATHLETUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

This muscular creature can be found crouched on all fours in large circular arenas on Saturday afternoons in the fall. There, to the sounds of primitive chants, he goes through a series of violent lunges and falls. At other times of the year, he can be found on U.S. highways driving a late model convertible. On rare occasions, he can be observed in the back row of a college classroom, usually with a highly developed case of laryngitis. In later years, he turns into a Professionalus Athletus, the only difference being that he has changed his habitat, and now owns two late model convertibles.

THE SALTUS SHORELEAVUS

Although the Saltus Shoreleavus spends most of his time on the water, he is fascinating to study when he reaches land. Through some mysterious instinct, he can immediately discover where to find an abundance of feminine wildlife. He does his best work when accompanied by a fellow Saltus Shoreleavus, or "buddy", who helps him avoid his deadly enemy, the Saltus Shorepatrolus. Members of the Saltus species readily adapt to all seasons, changing their coloring from blue in winter to white in summer. Strangely enough, his life span usually lasts but four years, after which he molts and turns into the common Civilianus Salari.

THE BLONDUS IGNORAMUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

Most U.S. creatures are self-sufficient. The Blondus Ignoramus, however, has no means of self-preservation and must live off others. At an early stage of life, she finds it impossible to feed or clothe herself in the manner to which she'd like to be accustomed. When this happens, she is taken under the wing of another remarkable creature, the Tycoonus Sugardaddyus. At the same time, her natural coloring — a dull brunette — miraculously changes to flashily blonde. It should be carefully noted that the Blondus Ignoramus never reaches the age of more than 29 years.

THE TYCOONUS SUGARDADDYUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

Although an aging beast, the Tycoonus Sugardaddyus usually reverts to his youth by a ritual known as "turning back the clock". When this happens, he finds that he has a strong attraction for the Blondus Ignoramus, and spends the last years of his life in this interesting pursuit. Since he imagines himself a much younger creature, he enjoys being called infant-like names such as "Snookums" or "Cuddles". He earns these titles of respect through a variety of means, mainly expensive gifts, two of which are the mink coat and the diamond necklace.

* * A Refrigerated Stole for giving THE COLD SHOULDER

THE SNOBBUS SOCIETUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

Although the Snobbus Societus is slowly becoming extinct, the few remaining are endowed with great power, compensating for a brain which is remarkably small. She is a durable creature, whose sole purpose in life is to outlive the others of her species. She can be observed in her native habitat — a large and decaying dwelling in the older section of a large city. There, the Snobbus Societus is frequently surrounded by a bevy of chattering Socialus Climbus, who feed on her ego. This strange diet often affects the color of her blood, which allegedly turns dark icy blue.

THE IDOLUS BOBBYSOXUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

Of all U.S. mammals, none has a larger following than the Idolus Bobbysoxus. He produces a variety of sounds which bring forth eerie shrieks and moans from his followers, usually made up of thousands of young U.S. earth-women. He is particularly noted for well-developed body movements, which often prevent his audience from listening to the sounds he emits. No one has ever been able to discover what happens to the Idolus Bobbysoxus once he has been replaced by a much younger Idolus Bobbysoxus.

THE SUBURBUS COMMUTERUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

This strange mammal is torn between life in the city and life in the country. Because of this, he performs a unique type of daily migration known as "commuting". Since the Suburbus Commuterus is a vulnerable species, he protects himself by blending in with the colors of his fellow creatures. Oddly, this blending affects his mind, resulting in a strange manner of speech called "Madison Avenuese". The Suburbus Commuterus has one great fear, which he calls "the high cost of living". He fights this dire economic threat through a novel means of self-preservation known as "the expense account".

THE SUBURBUS DOMESTICUS

The Suburbus Domesticus behaves totally unlike her mate. To begin with, she does not fear "the high cost of living"; instead she helps boost it through a local ritual known as "keeping up with the Joneses". This is mainly done through an activity called "the buying spree" which occurs instinctively whenever she feels she has been cooped up too long. The Suburbus Domesticus does not believe in identical colorings, and goes to great lengths to avoid sporting the same plumage as her neighbor. In later years, she carefully watches her mate's health, and often examines his white collar for red marks, which are sure signs of the dreaded Sweetheartus Outsides disease.

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

THE LUSHUS EXTREMUS

SILHOUETTE

LOOK FOR

Pictured above is the only known U.S. mammal which feeds entirely on liquids. Noted for his reddish coloring, he can be found perched on high stools in dark, man-made caverns called "bars". There, each evening, before a white-coated attendant, he performs a weird rite known as "pouring out his troubles", which often leaves him in a state of great thirst. (A note of warning!) At times the Lushus Extremus becomes extremely hostile. In this state, he should be approached with great caution and only if you are sober and twice his size.

THE CAMPAIGNUS POLITICUS

An intriguing species, the Campaignus Politicus has to be seen to be believed, and sometimes can't be believed when seen. He spends most of his time in large meeting places arguing or dozing with others of his breed. In even numbered years, a remarkable transformation occurs. The Campaignus Politicus returns to his native haunts where he makes self-laudatory speeches to whoever will listen. During this uninhibited period, he finds himself paternally attracted to babies, housewives, farmers, business men, laborers... everyone! When he leaves public office, he immediately writes a dull book of memoirs, and then turns into a respected Statesmanus Elderus.
